The General

The fishermen were simple people who looked upon the Park and its inmates as a place and people to be worshipped from afar. The general shop, a little more elevated in its notions, prided itself upon the custom of the "gentry," and the im-... something more than a statistical mean-tion was a pretty little place midway in the single street, overgrown with ivy from which its windows peered like so many struggling to catch a glimpse of the glittering signboard through their lids of leaves.

This signboard was a wonder. In Martha Pettigall's opinion there had never been, or never would be, a work of art to compare with it. It bore on its crimson background a lion so blue, so fierce, and in attitude so proudly and preposterously unnatural that Martha's pride was, after all, excusable. Certainly, there was some truth in her assertion that there was "nerf in a lion" in the whole world like it.

Martha Pettigall, a thin old lady with sharp eyes and a mysterious complaint. This disease—it was painless—attacked her whenever the wind rose, and the east, her customers troublesome, and her niece, pretty Polly Pettigall, aggravating. It produced itself by sharp tones and a yellow landana.

The sharp tones were freely employed to all about her, and the fishermen knew from the expression that by the appearance of the yellow flag laid tightly across Martha's head and face.

At such times it was astonishing how quiet and graceful, how calm and self-contained, how lowly and how early they left the little tapers and departed to their by no means soft couches.

The day after the captain's arrival, Martha appeared in the bar with the yellow bandage and the vinegarish tones in full battle array.

Polly, light-headed, slippery fingered, Polly—had dropped and broken one of the best jugs, one of that set which her aunt as a wedding gift as there was wrath in the hostess' boom and there in the hall, the door was open.

Polly was red and flushed about the neighborhood of the eyes, and her prettily lip were fixed in aullen, tear-threatening point.

It was a quarter to eleven, the men had just come in from the wharves, and were inclined to be jovial.

"Where's the missus?" inquired Willie Sanderson, as followed by a crowd of his mates, young and old, he traiged into the barroom. "Well, Polly, my lass, there's as fresh as a herring 'tis morning 'tween this 'un for ye, the biggest I've seen this week."

RIVALRY IN LOVE CAUSED FATHER TO MURDER SON, POLICE ALLEGED

Paris.—That he killed his son because of jealousy is the charge upon which Mr. Pragon will be brought to trial shortly in what promises to be the most sensational case that has thrilled Paris in years.

Mme. Pauline Pragon is the woman whom the police allege, father and son both loved madly. They charge that the father shot down his son to get rid of a rival in love. The son was a most popular vaudeville actor under contract at the time of the tragedy at $5,000 a month at the Alhambra music hall. Long after the charge is placed against Mlle. Frank.

Indeed, the well known Karl of Landmark and his children, the Earl of Landmark, his ancestors had fought at Crecy, and at Hastings.

Landmark Hall was an immense place in the Midlands, a grand old house, with famous associations. You could not turn a page of English history without finding the name of Landmark. It was a question with some politicians whether if by some dreadful chance the house of Landmarks had been written at all.

There were men who when they went to the theatre, the grandeur, the nobility, the importance of England would point the admiring finger at Landmark and exclaim:

Our Precise Artist

"Good morning, Bob," replied Willie, and with a smile he repeated the action which had surprised Mr. Starling.

In an instant the old fellow's hand went up to his ears, and with a reflection of Willie Sanderson's smile, he said to the horse and passed slowly. Beyond the salutation not a word had passed, but Willie Sanderson was looking at the horse and passing slowly. Beyond the salutation not a word had passed, but Willie Sanderson was looking at the horse and passing slowly.

CHAPTER V

To the unsophisticated inhabitants of the little seacoast village the Midlams of the Park, and the Dodsons of the Colars, were very great folk indeed, but we have now to do with far greater, with no less a personage and family.

Joint and Muscle Pains Banished by Nerviline

IT CURES RHEUMATISM.

Thousands of people, chuck full of the joy of living—happy, glad, bright people that Nerviline cured of their pains, all tell the same wonderful story of its power to drive out the aches and tortures of rheumatism and kindred ills.

"My goodness, but Nerviline is a miracle-worker," writes Mrs. Charlotte Chubb, a woman mother of a well-known family residing at Mount Pleasant. "Last month I was crippled with sciatica and muscular rheumatism, so that I was almost unable to do a bit of housework. My points were stiff and sore, and I was frightened to sleep. I was so miserable that I thought I had reached the end of my life. But I got busy with this wonderful good oil. Lots of rubbing with Nerviline soon relieved my misery, and I was in a real short time once more at work as usual.

No matter where the ache is, no matter how distressing the pain, you can rub it away with Nerviline. For forty years it has been curing lungago, sciatica, backache, colds, chest trouble and all sorts of winter ills. Keep a large jar of Nerviline handy, and you'll be saved lots of trouble and have smaller bills to pay. Trial size 25c, at druggists everywhere.

Mabel had gone to the art artist. Not that she cared for pictures, but every one else. A friend saw her and took another friend. Friend No. 2 must have a few days later. "Way, holla, Mabel, here's a little handy, and you'll be saved lots of trouble and have smaller bills to pay. Trial size 25c, at druggists everywhere.

PROGRESSIVE CANNIBATES

Made Speeches at the Meeting Last Evening.

THEY WANT A HALL

But Are Opposed to Introduction of Politics.

Last night was "election speech" night at the meeting of the East End Progressive Association. The meeting was well attended and well conducted. Arising out of the minutes of last week's meeting was the question of a free meeting, and this was strongly opposed by several members.

Geo. Turney was the member who voiced his objections the longest, and these were backed on the fact that if the market fees were gone away with $1,000 would be lost yearly to the city; the deficit would have to be made up by the city, and this would strongly counter the establishment of an east end market.

William Kinch and John Byers also spoke along the same lines.
Mr. Turney proposed that a deputation wait upon the City Council to voice their objections on this matter.

John Byers seconded the motion, and the following deputation was chosen: Messrs. Kinch, Turney and Byers.
William Kinch, the president of the association during 1913, then gave a speech, in which he asked the support of the members in his candidature for the same office at the next election. He referred to the work which had been accomplished, for which, however, he did not take all the credit. He said he had been on every committee and on every delegation sent to the city hall. Improvements on the street, such as the lighting of the streets, roadway, lights and sidewalks. Through his representations to the City Council, he had secured the removal of the old market, and the new market had been opened up, but the cost was paid by the property owners. He said that he had been instrumental in the removal of the old market, and the new market had been opened up, but the cost was paid by the property owners.

DIED FROM GAS

Sad End in Sleep of Aged Toronto Couple.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Overcome by gas while taking an afternoon rest in their room at 10 Manning avenue, the bodies of John Richards, 70 years old, and his wife, Jane, 64 years old, were found last night. The discovery was made by P. C. Jones, of No. 3 division. He had been summoned by the owner of the house.

When the policeman broke down the door he found the room full of gas, which was coming through a leaky tube attached to a small stove. The gas had been turned off by the couple, but the gas had leaked out of the stove.

The woman was lying partly dressed on the bed, while the old man was sitting in his chair. His chin was resting on his breast, as though he had fallen asleep. The bodies were found in the room, which was filled with gas. The gas had been turned off by the couple, but the gas had leaked out of the stove.

The exact number of members at the end of last year was 216, of whom 170 were women and 146 men. Thirty-nine new members were added, of whom 24 joined by profession of faith. Adherents were estimated at 684. The total amount of money passing through the treasury was $11,568.96, and on Dec. 31st the accounts were out merely two cents. The total raised by the church itself was $15,689.26. Of this, $300 was given to missions, both at home and abroad, and on the strength of the showing offered it was made to have a representative in South America. Now Gordon Castel represents the church in Africa, and Miss Mary A. Chisholm in Canada.

The assets of the church are considered to involve about $60,000, the value of real estate and buildings. Although the financial statement showed an overdraft of $1,816 in the building fund, it was explained that this was covered by promises of subscriptions. In 1913 there was given $2,528 in subscriptions towards the cost of the new building, of which $1,000 was collected but not collected. For the old edifice on Huxton street $25,000 was received, which helped considerably to wipe out the overdraft of $1,816 at the beginning of 1913 and pay the remaining expenses in connection with the new church. No less than $14,041 was given by donors during the year for actual work.

In opening the meeting, Rev. Mr. Gilroy alluded to the influence of the church, which he believed to be more extensive and more intense than ever before. He appreciated the loyalty of the congregation, and had every reason to be assured of true progress in the future. He explained that during 1913 there had been eleven funerals, three of which were in connection with non-members; nine baptisms and seventeen marriages.

It was announced after the meeting that at the December meeting of the management board, at which the new business is transacted each year, the salary of the pastor had been increased from $2,000 to $2,200. This met with general satisfaction it being pointed out that since the commencement of Mr. Gilroy's pastorate the church had been pre-munitionally successful.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. W. J. Aitchison, who acted as chairman of the committee looking after the new church, of a gold key to the building. This was given to him, on behalf of the congregation, by Wm. B. Palmer, who alluded to Mr. Aitchison's faithful services.

The main items on the church's general credit sheet, which totalled $8,307.18, were weekly offerings (envelope) $2,435; weekly offerings (open) $1,607; P.S.A., $100; Guild, $120; for missions, $714.

The principal expenditures were: Salaries and stipend, $2,755; repairs, $150; insurance, $101; foreign missions, $454; for missions, $271; for missions, $271.

Thomas Bale urged that during 1914 an effort be made to raise $1,000 for general missions.

The reports of the various societies were all encouraging, particularly that of the M.C. Club, which consists of young ladies, who spend their time and talent in teaching young foreign girls to read and write English. The reports were all concise, being presented as follows:

Sunday School, Mr. Bale, 25
Sewing class, Mr. J. C. Bale, 25
M.C. Club, Mr. Bale, 25
Senior C.E. Miss Goidard, 25
Junior C.E. Miss Chadwick, 16
Gaiety, Mr. J. C. Bale, 25
Y.M. Club, G. Davidson, 45
Boys' Club, J. Wheeler, 25
P.S.A., Mrs. Johnston, 25
Music, H. E. Palmer, 25
Ladies, J. E. Dixon, 25
Grouse, Thos. Bale, 25
Missionary Com. H. D. Root, 25

Mr. Bale, in presenting the report of the school, thought not enough attention was paid to it by the church. He pointed out that the average attendance was 108, and that four more classes would be created at once.

The pastor filled in the fact that Mr. Bale had retired from active work in the school, but was kind enough to undertake a Bible class of mixed classes. He hoped that many would keep this in mind and join at once.

Regret was also expressed that Mr. S. H. Alexander, who had been chairman of the early departure of the pastor, had found it necessary to resign from leadership of the church. He had been a member of the church for many years, and a resolution of sympathy with the family was adopted.

Mention was made of the sad death of the late Arthur Smith, who died some time ago, and as he was a member of the church, a resolution of sympathy with the family was adopted.

Pastor—Rev. W. E. Gilroy.
Deacons—Arthur Smith, Walter Bale, Alexander, F. Stockton, J. E. Oldfield and H. E. Palmer.

1913 WAS GOOD; FUTURE BRIGHT

Congregational Church in Excellent Condition

PASTOR'S SALARY

Was Increased to $2,000: Mr. Aitchison Honored

During seventy-nine years of Congregationalism in Hamilton no period has been just so successful as 1913, according to vigorous statements made last evening at the annual meeting of First Congregational Church, Main street east. Reports of the work submitted during the proceedings emphasized the progress of last year, when not only were the handsome new church erected and practically paid for entirely, but the number of members and adherents reached a thousand. During the whole evening not a farthing occurred, and in many of the remarks tribute was paid to the pastor, Rev. W. E. Gilroy, who has been with the church for three years.

The exact number of members at the end of last year was 216, of whom 170 were women and 146 men. Thirty-nine new members were added, of whom 24 joined by profession of faith. This met with general satisfaction it being pointed out that since the commencement of Mr. Gilroy's pastorate the church had been pre-munitionally successful.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. W. J. Aitchison, who acted as chairman of the committee looking after the new church, of a gold key to the building. This was given to him, on behalf of the congregation, by Wm. B. Palmer, who alluded to Mr. Aitchison's faithful services.

The main items on the church's general credit sheet, which totalled $8,307.18, were weekly offerings (envelope) $2,435; weekly offerings (open) $1,607; P.S.A., $100; Guild, $120; for missions, $714.

The principal expenditures were: Salaries and stipend, $2,755; repairs, $150; insurance, $101; foreign missions, $454; for missions, $271; for missions, $271.

Thomas Bale urged that during 1914 an effort be made to raise $1,000 for general missions.

The reports of the various societies were all encouraging, particularly that of the M.C. Club, which consists of young ladies, who spend their time and talent in teaching young foreign girls to read and write English. The reports were all concise, being presented as follows:

Sunday School, Mr. Bale, 25
Sewing class, Mr. J. C. Bale, 25
M.C. Club, Mr. Bale, 25
Senior C.E. Miss Goidard, 25
Junior C.E. Miss Chadwick, 16
Gaiety, Mr. J. C. Bale, 25
Y.M. Club, G. Davidson, 45
Boys' Club, J. Wheeler, 25
P.S.A., Mrs. Johnston, 25
Music, H. E. Palmer, 25
Ladies, J. E. Dixon, 25
Grouse, Thos. Bale, 25
Missionary Com. H. D. Root, 25

Mr. Bale, in presenting the report of the school, thought not enough attention was paid to it by the church. He pointed out that the average attendance was 108, and that four more classes would be created at once.

The pastor filled in the fact that Mr. Bale had retired from active work in the school, but was kind enough to undertake a Bible class of mixed classes. He hoped that many would keep this in mind and join at once.

Regret was also expressed that Mr. S. H. Alexander, who had been chairman of the early departure of the pastor, had found it necessary to resign from leadership of the church. He had been a member of the church for many years, and a resolution of sympathy with the family was adopted.

Mention was made of the sad death of the late Arthur Smith, who died some time ago, and as he was a member of the church, a resolution of sympathy with the family was adopted.

Pastor—Rev. W. E. Gilroy.
Deacons—Arthur Smith, Walter Bale, Alexander, F. Stockton, J. E. Oldfield and H. E. Palmer.

KAISER'S NEW PALACE.

Potsdam Residence Has Some Attractive Features.
An English traveler who has recently returned from Berlin, gives an interesting account in one of the local papers of his visit to the new palace of the Kaiser at Potsdam.

There are many things which make the palace interesting to the privileged visitor, not the least among which is the kitchen, which stands in a separate building. Frederick the Great hated the smells of the kitchen and he had that most necessary adjunct to every household man, a kitchen, built in a separate building. The kitchen is a most interesting sight, and contains some very valuable paintings, but for formal events and even for family affairs, now that the Kaiser's family is getting to be so large, the great marble hall at White Hall is used. Three hundred and thirty guests can be seated at one time in this hall. Here have gathered nearly all the sovereigns of Europe, and on those occasions huge candles are used for lighting instead of the more modern electric light.

Other rooms of interest are the Kaiser's smoking room, to which some wonderful vases have recently been added, the gift of a visiting Chinese prince. The private theatre, the palace holds about 350 persons and the stage is arranged to produce all the latest scenic effects. The Kaiser prefers light comedy and this is the kind of entertainment he gives his guests.

The most interesting apartment in the entire palace, however, is undoubtedly the Hall of Shells. The room is most beautiful, its walls adorned with thousands of shells of all kinds. They have been arranged deftly in charming patterns, while other shells are graven with electricity. It was in this room that Col. Roosevelt, when ex-President, was entertained by the Kaiser. The Kaiser has his own railway station at White Hall, which is only a short distance from the palace.

Cincinnati May Get Toronto-Feds Franchise

Decision Almost Decided On at Private Meeting Held in That City Yesterday.

(By Times Special Wire.) Cincinnati, O., Jan. 22.—The city which is the headquarters of organized baseball, inasmuch as the office of the National Commission is located here, is seriously threatened by the invasion of the Federal League. At a secret meeting held last night in the Hotel City a law firm, it was almost finally decided to switch the franchise of the Toronto Federal League Club to Cincinnati.

Present at the meeting were President John A. Gilmore, of the Federal League, E. K. Gates, counsel for the league, Joseph Dixon, president of the newly-organized City, and Paul Connelly, an attorney.

Dixon, who is prominent in amateur sports, particularly baseball, outlined the local situation to Messrs. Gilmore and Gates. A site for a new ball park, within fifteen minutes of the city, was considered, but nothing positive was determined, except that Dixon would meet the new club if an invasion of this territory is decided upon.

It is understood that Gilmore and Gates will return to this city on Monday to go deeper into the matter of arranging financial details. President Gilmore rejected his statement that he would not fight for the services of other Killian and Fitcher, but he yesterday signed with the Philadelphia National League, to which they belong, previous to signing contracts with the Federal League.

Now or where he would begin action, but since he would take was not decided by Mr. Gilmore.

(By Times Special Wire.) New York, Jan. 22.—In a statement made last night by President F. D. Thorne of the International League, he stated that the Federal League had signed a preliminary agreement with the Philadelphia Athletics, and that the latter had agreed with his league for 1914, he said, and would with Detroit, and Kelly with Toronto.

The International League does not fear transferring the franchise to Cincinnati, as it is a matter of business, and if possible, a team would be placed in New York City next year, displacing the City in the circuit. The league for several years has been contemplating placing a team in the metropolis.

By 1911 there was some talk of transferring the Montreal franchise here.

New York, Jan. 22.—President Edward Barrow, of the International League, stated yesterday that the Philadelphia Athletics have jumped to the Federal League, and will have the opening bid to the league to receive the franchise.

After that date they will be eliminated as far as the International League is concerned, he said.

The International League will hear the case of the fight as far as national attention is concerned, but we will not make any attempt to influence the league, as it is a matter of business, and if possible, a team would be placed in New York City next year, displacing the City in the circuit.

Toronto and Hamilton Bowlers on the Aleys

Queen City Team Won Duck Pin Game—Smith and Duffie Won Two Man Match.

Hamilton had to call on Warhorse Duffie last night, at the Brunswick Academy, to start something in the winter for this city. The invading Toronto Brunswick bowlers, under the wing of A. J. Hartman, arrived in town yesterday afternoon, and in a most business-like manner, took to the duffie for practice for their big games at night.

Duffie's big game—30, 60, 90, 120, 147, 167, 186, 205, 225.

In the two-man match Chris Maxwell just about picked up the 8-10 separation, as this "now popular in Hamilton bowlers" drags around 112 pounds of weight, and an understanding of the eight-pin, although his perfectly, did not reach that night hand sentinal.

Mulvey's after-dinner speech was much enjoyed by the large audience present at the Brunswick Academy.

Two much of this Hibernian stuff is the story of Hamilton's duck-pin down fall last night. This big Toronto team had a start in the first game, which made his short look like a big tenpin score, and Manager Hartman went to town, starting out with a spare in each of the first two frames. Hibernian, who is a pretty fair duck-pin bowler, was not so good.

Hogston lived up to their name in the duck-pin match, as they carried away a 10-0 victory in the miniature pin home, and home match, and Chris Maxwell gave Fred Smith, the Brunswick Academy leader, a somewhat severe time, making a five-game affair.

But to get back to Bill Duffie and Hamilton's win.

After the single match, Maxwell versus Smith, the latter for far from a bad game, Duffie and Smith coupling up as Hamilton's representatives, and Hibernian stepped on the alley's partner to Maxwell.

The Toronto team received a dose of Duffie's striking last night, and were strictly out of order the first game. The Lord Leslie anchor man registered a cool and the first game, which practically ended the match. Fred Smith turned the tables on Maxwell in this match, to the satisfaction of his followers, and was high of the four match participants.

The Nations of the West, which is to surround the western entrance to the great Court of the Sun and Stars at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, will be placed in a magnificent sculptural group, representing the "Nations of the West" which will be a companion to the group representing the "Nations of the East" over the Arch of the Rising Sun, at the eastern entrance.

The "Nations of the West," is a composition by three noted sculptors, and depicts the great exploring, colonizing races of the Occident. The central figure of the composition is an old fashioned wagon, drawn by oxen—a typical "prairie schooner," such as the westward-bound wagons of the last century, used for their immigration into the Far West. In front of the wagon are the pioneers, representing the "Nations of the West," symbolizing the march of the coming race, while two boys, "The Hopes of the Future," and a female allegorical figure, "Enterprise" surmount the wagon. All these figures are left chief by a sculptor for the exposition. They are masterpieces of the sculptors, and are full of life and vigor, energetic daring and ambition.

In front of the wagon are the pioneers, representing the "Nations of the West," symbolizing the march of the coming race, while two boys, "The Hopes of the Future," and a female allegorical figure, "Enterprise" surmount the wagon. All these figures are left chief by a sculptor for the exposition. They are masterpieces of the sculptors, and are full of life and vigor, energetic daring and ambition.

The "Nations of the West," is a composition by three noted sculptors, and depicts the great exploring, colonizing races of the Occident. The central figure of the composition is an old fashioned wagon, drawn by oxen—a typical "prairie schooner," such as the westward-bound wagons of the last century, used for their immigration into the Far West. The preliminary search for the submarine since the disaster occurred.

A torpedo boat is standing by Pigny tonight, and a lifeboat will leave here at dawn to try and find the missing submarine. It is forecast that this will be a difficult task, especially as the pressure at the depth at which the wreck lies may be so great that it will not be able to remain below for any great length of time. No details are forthcoming of the appearance of the wreck.

A hydro-aeroplane made a fine flight today, flying over the wreck's mouth in an effort to locate the A.T. It made nearly sixty miles an hour. Before the hydro-aeroplanes arrived here the divers had been ordered to look for that hydro-aeroplanes were the best means for distinguishing submerged submarines.

The Admiralty sends a report that it is intended to relegate all the Class A submarines to the scrap heap.
